James St

21 James Street South, Belfast, BT2 7GA
(4 mins walk from City Hall)

Approximate price per head for 3 course meal
without alcohol: £30-£35

James St. is the coming together of two of Belfast's best restaurants, James Street South Restaurant and The Bar and Grill at James St. The new offering is the best of the Bar and Grill's menu with a few light touches to the fine cooking of James Street South. Classic dishes are firmly established on the menu from the crab and chilli linguine, Dundrum crab used on toast, alongside classic bistro dishes such as farmhouse terrine, fruit de mer plates available from Thursday. The charcoal grill still plays centre stage, cooking not just some of the best steaks and prime cuts Northern Ireland has to offer but also fresh whole fish, pork and vegetables. With a larger, more established bar area, a large range of wines are available alongside a considered spirit list and an extensive whisky offering. Locally produced beer, cider and gins take pride of place on the drinks menu. Owned by Niall McKenna since 2003 the revamped James St. will offer locals and tourists a great dining experience in a Belfast city centre. James St. has two rooms which are available to hire privately for up to 40 guests seated.

Hadskis

33 Donegal Street, Belfast, BT1 2NB
(10 mins walk from City Hall)

Approximate price per head for 3 course meal
without alcohol: £25-£30

Hadskis is another award winning restaurant from Niall McKenna's series of Belfast restaurants. Located on Belfast's most photographed street, Commercial Court, opposite the Duke of York, Hadskis marries the best of European menus with Northern Irish produce. The name Hadskis is a nod to a previous tenant of the building back in 1760 when Stewart Hadski opened a foundry making pots and pans. Stewart carried the business on until 1798. Hadskis can seat a total of 25. 16 max can be seated in the main restaurant on set 3 course menu or reduced a la carte menu.

Coppi

St Anne's Square, Belfast, BT1 2LR
(14 mins walk from City Hall)

Approximate price per head for 3 course meal
without alcohol: £20-£25

Right in the heart of Belfast's buzzing Cathedral Quarter, Coppi is Belfast's first cichetti bacari/restaurant inspired by those found in Venice and named after legendary Italian cyclist Angelo Fausto Coppi. There is style in the food which majors on Venetian tapas (cichetti) and Italianesque dishes. The influences are Italian but the ingredients are local where possible. Your steak will come from Peter Hannan's and your fish will be landed off NI's shores. All of the pasta, sourdough breads and desserts are made fresh daily in house by their talented team, led by Head Chef Stephen Ferris. Vegans are well looked after in Coppi too with a full and varied menu to suit all dietary requirements. The spacious restaurant area is able to cope with parties of all sizes. The restaurant also boasts an outdoor heated seating area allowing you to enjoy alfresco dining on those warmer days. Private hire of sectioned area for up to 70 guests.

House of Zen

St Anne's Square, Belfast, BT1 2LR
(14 mins walk from City Hall)

Approximate price per head for 3 course meal
without alcohol: £25-£30

The House Of Zen blends a little bit of The Orient into the traditional cobbled streets and cosy bars of the Cathedral Quarter in Belfast. It is an exciting venture which will combine dark and moody elegant décor with a Chinese menu never before seen in Belfast. A tangible energy will meet you at the entrance where the master chefs will tempt your palate with the aromas of slowly barbequed, tender ribs, chicken fillet or wings, wild mushrooms or asparagus and succulent steaks slowly cooking on the outdoor barbeque. Perfect for summer or winter evenings, or try their House Of Zen Signature Dish: marinated strips of fillet beef cooked to your liking! As a prequel to your meal, however, you may wish to head inside to the waterfall clad cocktail bar to sample one of the famous freshly made cocktails. House of Zen has 4 intimate booths and can accommodate up to 8 seated in each. These can also be used for business meetings, parties and canapé events. Capacity 100 but maximum 25 for group bookings
